

ABERCROMBIE & KENT
JORDAN
INSIDER ACCESS

“Insider Access” Opportunities

Abercrombie & Kent understands that today’s sophisticated traveller needs to do much more than just skim the surface of a country; he needs to delve more deeply into the real culture of the place he is visiting, to understand, to interact and ultimately to expand his own horizons. Doing this occasionally means going to places off the beaten track that regular tourists do not reach. While other times, it is simply a case of taking part in everyday activities that locals take for granted but which represent a whole new experience for the traveller.

Abercrombie & Kent Jordan is able to grant its clients true “insider access” in the form of:

- Ability to arrange special lectures given by experts in archaeology and Jordanian history.
- Specialist connections enabling access to current archaeological excavations or sites of current monument restoration and conservation.
- Unique access to social projects and NGOs working with local women and children.
- Access to local celebrities, members of the Royal family and local organizations.
- Arranging exclusive tours and visits of significant locations and institutions in Jordan.

Travelling with Abercrombie and Kent Jordan creates unique cultural and social experiences for the traveller. We work very hard to insure that our clients not only have the time of their lives but to also insure that the experience will stay with them forever.

Below is a detailed description of the Insider Access activities we can provide for our clients.

Cave Bar

The bar is located inside a Nabataean tomb in the hillside holding the Petra Guest House Hotel. It is a bar in a cave...sounds creepy, but it's not. It just feels like you're inside a man-made cave (which, basically, you are). There are several burial niches around the perimeter of the room, which offer cozy private tables for two or three people, and larger tables in the main room. Is this the most unique bar that you will ever go to as it offers the right mix of energy and maturity with which you can unwind after a busy day in the archaeological park.

Your dining table is set in a dramatic canyon surrounded by mountains. Once seated, the sound of running horses gets closer and closer, announcing the arrival of the Nabatean “King” who welcomes you in Arabic, English and Nabatean. A sound and light show reveals the monument in all its glorious detail and showcases the sublime setting. Dinner is served, accompanied by oriental classical music that continues under the clear desert night sky.

Madrasati Initiative/Al-Jazazeh School

The Al-Jazazeh School provides a place for kids who would otherwise not have the opportunity to be educated and receive education on a daily basis in a secure environment.

Identified originally by the “Madrasati Initiative”/Jordan River Foundation, that was set up and is led by Her Majesty Queen Rania of Jordan, the school continues to do its best to provide an education for the children with the limited resources available. Over the last few years Abercrombie & Kent Jordan has set out to foster its relationship with the school.

The Madrasati Initiative was launched by Her Majesty the Queen in April of 2008, with the aim of reaching out to 500 public schools in urgent need of assistance across Jordan. The Initiative's main goal is to rejuvenate the education experience of students and provide them with a safe and comfortable environment in which to learn, develop and grow. This is being achieved in partnership with local communities, private and public sector institutions and different civil society entities.

An exclusive visit to Al-Jazazeh School in Jerash:

A&K Jordan clients can visit the school in order to get a better understanding about the importance of this project and can also make donations should they wish it. Visits can be arranged all year round except in the summer which is when the school will be closed for summer break.
